We encourage our clients to express their own individual ideas and choices as this is considered the most important design ingredient. We pay close attention to their desires and needs of the people in the house and ensure a successful residential interior design.

With Space Associates you may have the added advantage of getting to discuss with the designer just what details are particularly important to you. With that you can also receive guidance and advice about some things you haven't thought about before, and be guided in the right direction regarding attributes essential to bring alive the soul of the design.

commercial spaces design

Commercial interior design is the design of spaces both inside and outside a certain business space. Taking a space and transforming it into a livable personality in a creative and artistic way thereby transforming it to suit any need, using a variety of textures, and materials forms the crux of our approach. At Space Associates, we aim to make sure the finished space not only flows together, but allows the owner of the space to utilize it in the way they originally wanted to. Once the space is put together, with the little touches added, the transformation is complete. A person wants to walk in and feel like the space not only transforms them, but the company that will walk through it. The final aesthetic and functional outcome is bound to lure the customer and make his association with the client a very comfortable and memorable one.
